

HONORARY LIFE MEMBERSHIP

Australian Diabetes Educators Association

Abstract

Many members work tirelessly to contribute to the day-to-day operations and the professional profile of ADEA. The ADEA Board awards Honorary Life Membership of ADEA to those considered to have provided outstanding service to ADEA and diabetes education.

GUIDELINES FOR THE AWARD OF HONORARY LIFE MEMBERSHIP

THE ADEA'S CRITERIA FOR LIFE MEMBERSHIP

- The nominee has held continuous membership of the ADEA for a minimum of 15 years directly prior to being nominated for Life Membership and is currently a full member of the ADEA.
- The nominee has made an outstanding contribution to the ADEA and an exceptional contribution to diabetes care and education in Australia or internationally. The nominee's contribution should substantially exceed that which would normally be expected.

PROCEDURE

- Any full financial member of the ADEA may nominate a full financial member for consideration for Honorary Life Membership. – see criteria above.
- Nominations are to be accompanied by a comprehensive curriculum vitae of the nominee and other supporting data (e.g. research done, contribution to diabetes education, contribution to ADEA).
- Submissions later than 10 June will not be considered for that calendar year.
- Nominations will be considered at the next Board meeting following receipt of the nomination.
- Acceptance of the nomination will be by a majority vote from the Board
